The U.S. and Saudi Arabia share over 80 years of collaboration based on mutual respect, shared values and goals. The U.S. has the highest share of FDI stock in Saudi Arabia. The Kingdom is the world's largest producer of oil and desalinated water and home to the world's largest industrial complex and metro infrastructure.

Other senior Saudi and U.S. government officials and business leaders will discuss business and investment opportunities in the following sectors:

Downstream Petrochemicals | Health and Medical Care | Education and Training Infrastructure |
Financial Services | Entrepreneurship | Industrial Development

The program includes plenaries, a networking luncheon, one-on-one meetings, and exhibitions.

"Invest Saudi" Exhibition September 3-4, 2015

This is a valuable opportunity to meet representatives of a wide selection of Saudi government agencies that support, facilitate, or influence businesses and/or present specific investment opportunities in the Kingdom. This event also includes key companies that have significant localization and supply chain investment opportunities.

SAUDI EXPORTS Exhibition September 3-4, 2015

The Investment Forum will also feature the Saudi Export Development Authority (SAUDI EXPORTS), the independent national authority that seeks to develop Saudi non-oil exports that are diverse and globally competitive. SAUDI EXPORTS aims to grow domestic trade by enhancing small and medium enterprises' export readiness, promoting export opportunities, and advancing ecosystem efficiency and international market access.

Forum Admission: Free of charge.
